

E-LEARNING

The food supply chains in India have witnessed a sea change in the recent past. While the food processing sector is growing rapidly, a new segment is emerging in the wholesale sector, with the penetration of modern logistics firms and specialized modern wholesalers. Supply chains are shortening, cold stores are expanding rapidly and the private sector is playing a transformational role.

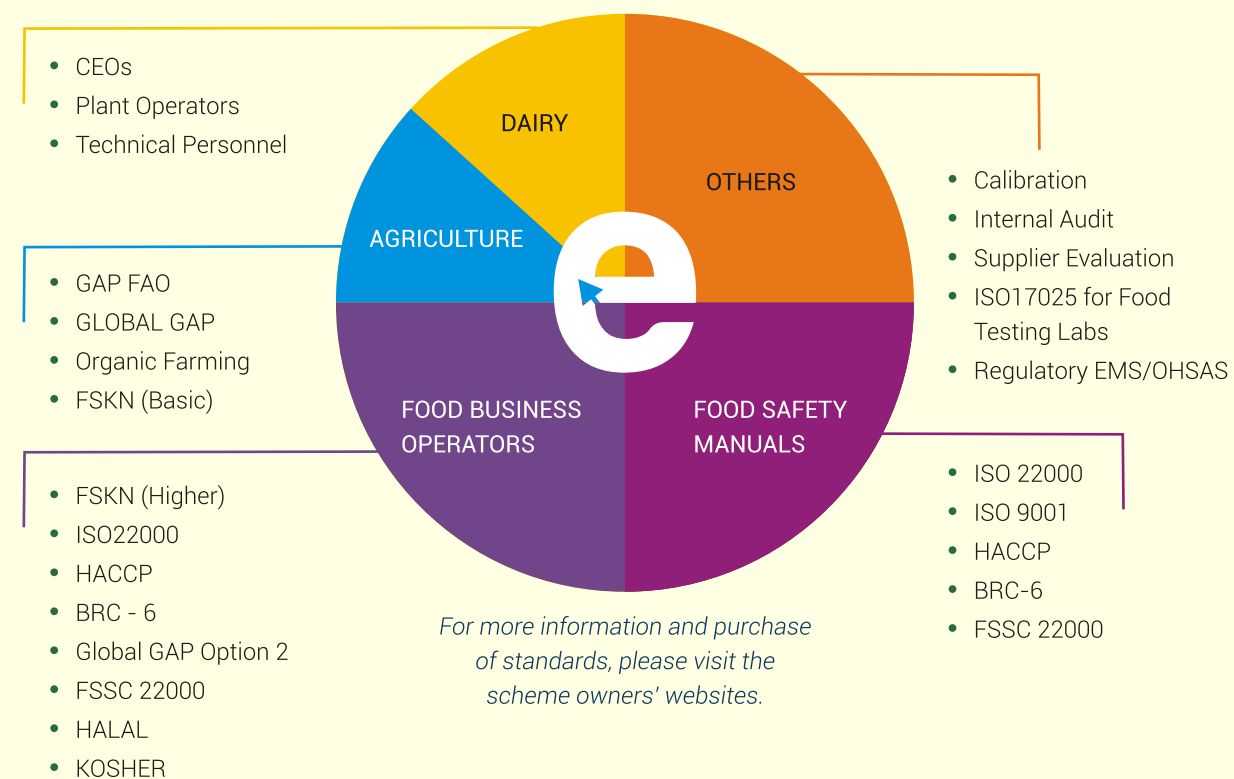

eFresh, with its mission to provide holistic agri-sector services, has introduced online courses on Food Safety Management Systems and other Internationally recognized standards, to benefit all the stakeholders in the Food Supply Chain. eFresh's E-Learning initiative has been specifically designed to address the varied needs of Farmers, Producer Groups, Food Processors, Consultants, Students and personnel involved in food chain activities.
